TRANSMITS THE REPORT

Of Inland Waterways
Commission Appointed Last March

Duties of the Government in Securing the Largest Possible
Use of Our Waterways.

Washington, Feb. 26—President Roosevelt this afternoon transmitted to the Senate and House of Representatives a preliminary report from the Inland Waterways Commission, which was appointed by him last March, and it is now being read in both Houses of Congress. The message follows:

To the Senate and House of Representatives:

I transmit herewith a Preliminary Report from the Inland Waterways Commission, which was appointed by me last March in response to a widespread interest and demand from the people. The basis of this demand lay in the general and admitted inability of the railroads to handle promptly the traffic of the country, and especially the crops of the previous Fall.

This report is well worth your attention. It is thorough, conservative, sane, and just. It represents the mature judgment of a body of men exceptionally qualified, by personal experience and knowledge of conditions throughout the United States, to understand and discuss the great problem of how best to use our waterways in the interest of all the people. Unusual care has been taken to secure accuracy and balance of statement. If the report errs at all it is by over-conservatism. It contains findings or statements of fact, a number of specific recommendations, and an account of inquiries still in progress, and it is based in part on statistics and other information contained in a voluminous appendix. The subject with which it deals is of critical importance both to the present and the future of our country.

Rivers Poorly Developed.

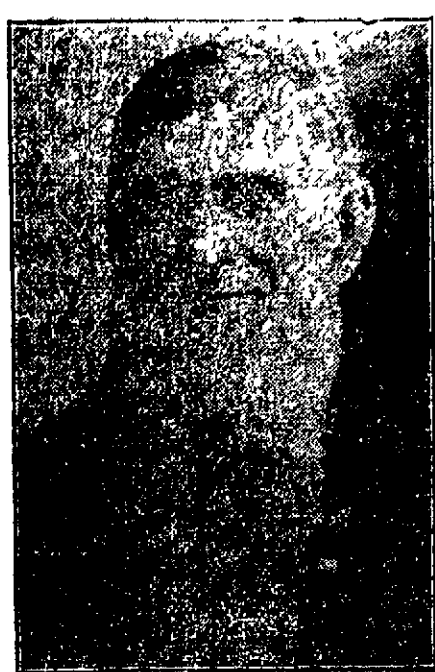

Our river systems are better adapted to the needs of the people than those of any other country. In extent, distribution, navigability, and ease of use, they stand first. Yet the rivers of no other civilized country are so poorly developed, so little used, or play so small a part in the industrial life of the nation as those of the United States. In view of the use made of rivers elsewhere, the failure to use our own is astonishing, and no thoughtful man can believe that it will last. The accompanying report indicates clearly the reasons for it and the way to end it.

The Commission finds that it was unregulated railroad competition which prevented or destroyed the development of commerce on our inland waterways. The Mississippi, our greatest national highway, is a case in point. At one time the traffic upon it was without a rival in any country. The report shows that commerce was driven from the Mississippi by the railroads. While production was limited, the railroads, with their convenient terminals, gave quicker and more satisfactory service than the waterways. Later they prevented the restoration of river traffic by keeping down their rates along the rivers, compelling themselves by higher charges elsewhere. They also acquired water fronts and terminals to an extent which made water competition impossible. Throughout the country the railroads have secured such control of canals and steamboat lines that to day inland waterway transportation is largely in their hands. This is natural and doubtless inevitable under the circumstances, but it should not be allowed to continue unless under careful Government regulation.

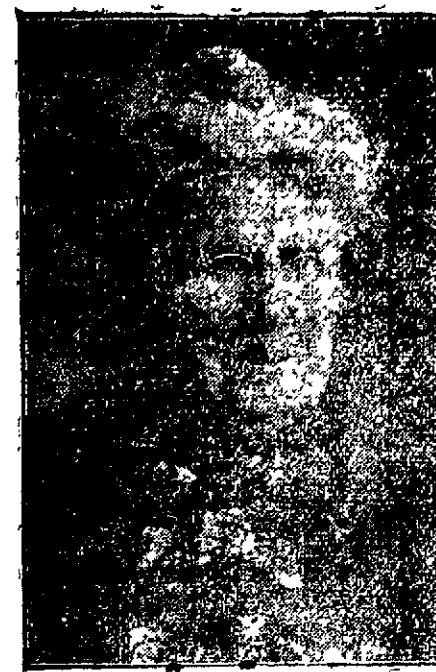

Requires Intelligent Regulation.

Comparatively little inland freight is carried by boat which is not carried as part of its journey by rail cars. As the report shows, the successful development and use of our inland waterways will require intelligent regulation of the relations between rail and water traffic. When this is done the railways and waterways will assist instead of injure each other. Both will benefit, but the chief benefit will accrue to the people in general through quicker and cheaper transportation.

The report rests throughout on the fundamental conception that every waterway should be made to serve the people as largely and in as many different ways as possible. It is poor (Continued on page 4, 4th col.)

GIBBS HAS A NEW DEVICE

Invented Signal to be Installed on Interurban Cars.

W. A. Gibbs, general manager of the Ohio Electric Railway company's lines, formerly located in Newark, has just invented a new signal arrangement, which will be installed on electric cars between Columbus and Zanesville at once. This signal light arrangement is something entirely new and it will be tried for the first time on the local line.

The arrangement is in some ways similar to the device used on the trolleys now on the front of the city cars. The screen, which is lighted by an electric light, contains a series of numbers. By pressing a button any number can be flashed up.

The device is to be used for the convenience of the car crew to designate the number of the cars, which they meet on their regular trips. For instance, the conductor will take notice of Car No. 34, passed on such and such a siding and immediately flash it to the motorman.

Mr. Gibbs has now completed an elaborate ticket counting machine which is being used in the Columbus office, where he is located. It surpasses any of his former efforts along this line.

At the hour when the funeral was being held a formal charge of murder was being made against Giuseppe Alio, the Italian anarchist, in the criminal court, and he, in his cell at Colorado Springs, was repeating, "All priests are bad; they dine upon the fat of the land while people fast; I only wish the one I killed was the priest I knew twelve years ago in Sicily."

PABLO OCAMPO

BENITO LEGARDA

Washington Feb. 26—Pablo Ocampo and Benito Legarda, resident commissioners of the Philippine assembly to the United States, have been introduced to the leaders of the house and senate by Secretary of War Taft, and given seats in the house. Although elected by a native assembly, which works in harmony with a Republican administration, the Filipinos were given seats on the back row of the Democratic side, and smiled benignly when told where they were located. Granting of floor privileges to the resident commissioners from the Philippines was accomplished in the house by a resolution from the Committee on Ways and Means. The resolution gave them the privilege of the floor of the house, as they have in the senate, with the right of debate, but no place on committees. They have not the right to vote or introduce bills.

Independent Buyers Representing Trusts Taking Over the Crops

Price is Satisfactory to the Burley Pool—Peace Now in Sight.

Winchester, Ky., Feb. 26—Doom to night riding, cutting out of crops and all other incidents and phases of the Kentucky tobacco war is believed to have been sounded in Winchester. For three weeks independent buyers, who are said to represent the trusts, have been buying the burley at 15 cents a pound and upward, and negotiations are claimed by the burley men with the American Tobacco company whereby the entire 1906 burley pool representing 500,000,000 pounds, is to be sold at the growers' price, 15 cents a pound.

On the heels of this comes the rumor that the 1907 burley pool of 110,000,000 pounds is to be bought by the American Tobacco company at 15 cents and upward, yielding the victory to the growers and the Equity people, giving them their price and ending the most disastrous struggle in the history of Kentucky.

From the lips of leaders in the growers' organizations comes the statement tonight that the executive board of the Burley society has been meeting here and that a representative of the American Tobacco company, on the request of the growers' officials, has appeared at the meeting and pleaded the cause of the trust. Finally, it was agreed, they say, to sell the 1906 crop, definitely, and to permit examinations of the 1907 crop on the agreement of the company's representative that he would pay 15 cents for every pound of 1906, and if the samples of the 1907 white burley are above the 15 cent grade he would pay more.

It is admitted from high Frankfort sources that the state officials have been notified that the end of the tobacco war is in sight and that the crops will soon be in the company's warehouses, the money in the hands of the farmers and the masks and torches of the night riders gone forever.

Five million pounds of white burley have been bought here in the three weeks that the "independent buyers" have been on the ground. These buyers have, in all previous cases, been considered agents of the American Tobacco company, and its allies, and the importance of their submission to the 15 cent rule is absolutely beyond rating.

"There is no doubt and no question of the conference or the appearance of the authorized trust agent," said a prominent growers' official on the ground. "We have held it, and after hearing his plea we have made our answer that we will let him know soon, perhaps today."

COMMITTEE ON PUBLIC BUILDING

RECOMMENDS AN ADDITIONAL INCREASE OF $10,000 FOR NEWARK.

Congressman Ashbrook Successful in Having Increase Included in Committee's Report.

Secretary James Maynone, of the Board of Trade, received a letter from Congressman Wm. A. Ashbrook Wednesday, enclosing the report of the committee on public buildings, with reference to Newark's proposed new postoffice. Congressman Ashbrook recently brought the subject to the attention of the committee. Its report favors and recommends an increase of $10,000 to the appropriation of the $90,000 called for in the original bill. This would mean that a $100,000 edifice is recommended by the commission.

This certainly is a vindication of the charges circulated against Mr. Ashbrook before election, that if successful Newark would lose its public building.

GRAPE VINE

OF UNUSUAL SIZE IS GROWING ON FARM NEAR PATASKALA

Freak Basswood Tree—Old Apple Tree—Fifty-Five inches in Circumference.

Editor Advocate:—In a recent issue of your paper mention was made of a very old and very large grape vine, in Harrison township, this county. On the old Samuel Peters farm, one and three-quarter miles north of Pataskala, now owned by S. and J. Farvel, there is a grape vine of unusual size. Measured above the swelling of the roots its exact size is 50 inches or four feet and two inches in circumference. Twenty feet above the ground it measures 26 inches in circumference. It is exceedingly healthy and must be of great age. It is located in an isolated spot, the road having been closed many years ago, and is visited by but few people. On the same spot is another freak of nature—a basswood or lin tree. It has a root that runs on top of the ground ten feet, dodges under a beech tree at its center, and is larger than the basswood, and comes to the surface again, running for quite a distance before again entering the ground, showing that the beech is the older tree. Twenty rods from this is an old apple orchard still bearing fruit. One of the trees measures below the swell of the trunk 95 inches in circumference. If any one doubts this story or the measurements above given, the writer would be glad to meet that person at Pataskala and convey him to the spot, besides furnishing him with a good count, dinner. Respectfully,

E. N. ROOT

SHOULD LIVE 100 YEARS

Sir James Crichton Brown's Opinion.

Sir James Crichton Brown of England, at the Congress of the Royal Institute of Public Health in London, gave a lecture on old age. He states that if every person should live right and take the proper care, to live one hundred years would be a matter of course.

There is no excuse for feebleness at the age of fifty, sixty, or even seventy. In every person there is a constant change taking place in the system, and just so long as the supply equals or exceeds the waste, just so long will old age be ward off.

When one finds their energies flagging, the organs acting slowly and less effectively, the blood sluggish and in fact "fres old," then there is nothing known to medicine that will restore elasticity to the step, brightness to the eyes, vigor to the brain and muscle, and strength to every organ in the body so surely as our real cod liver and iron preparation, Vinol.

Vinol contains in a concentrated form all of the medicinal body-building elements of cod liver oil, actively taken from fresh cods' livers, the useless oil eliminated and tonic added.

We ask every aged person in Newark to try Vinol on our offer to return money if not satisfied. Frank D. Hall, druggist.

GOING TO HESITATE TO TRY A REAL INDIGESTION CURE?

Read Below Why the Worst Dyspeptic in This City Can Find Immediate Relief With These 22 Grain Triangles.

Misericable is the man or woman who suffers from dread indigestion or dyspepsia. There are few diseases which create such misery, long drawn out suffering, as indigestion. It pursues them before meals, after meals and between meals, they take it to bed with them. It is with them wherever they go, though indigestion is the simplest disease of all to cure.

Tell such afflicted ones, dear reader, of the 22-grain Triangles of Diapensin: urge the sufferer to go to any Pharmacy here and give 50 cents for a case and to eat one like candy after the next meal. Such a sufferer would ever bless you, because five minutes after eating one Triangle there would be no more indigestion, no feeling like a lump of lead in the stomach, or heartburn, or fullness and discomfort, no belching of Gas, no Eructations of Sour food, Debilitating Headache, Nausea, Water Brash and other symptoms of a sour disordered stomach.

Pape's Diapensin contains pure Aseptic Pepsin, one grain of which will digest without any assistance 2,000 grains of food; also Diastase, Papain, Calcium, pure Extract Cascara Sagrada, powdered Ginger and other ingredients making these Triangles harmless and taste like candy.

Diapensin is a wonderful Stomach purifier and splendid to keep the intestines clean and fresh; then your food will not ferment and poison your breath with nauseous odors.

Just one 22-grain Triangle will digest more than 3,000 grains of food in the same way that a strong healthy stomach would do it. Diapensin will rest the stomach and increase the gastric juices; that is what is mostly needed—more and better digestive juices—and a Gas—then indigestion and all stomach trouble will go, and there will be no further need of Diapensin.

Each 50-cent case contains sufficient of these 22-grain Triangles to usually cure the most chronic dyspeptic and leave some for other members of the family who may need it for Gas on Stomach, Headaches or other disorders when they eat something which does not agree with them. A case ought to be kept in each home.

FEMININE TOPICS

Lent is the herald of spring, and Easter is hardly come before summer is upon us and what better time could there be for summer sewing than during the six weeks of penance? Easter comes this season April 19.

A rare combination is style, fit, service and comfort—all these you get in the Armstrong shoe at Linehans'. The best materials are used, the best workmanship is employed in their production and it takes longer to make them, which insures their retaining their shape always.

I noticed the first showing of spring millinery in Hansberger's window.

To whisper what is already an open secret, hair is now put on with the hat, and indeed how otherwise would the eccentric shapes of the moment ever achieve their effect without a deft manipulation of the tresses they crown so effectively.

Fashion, like Nature herself, abhors a vacuum, and has determined that between the head and the brim of the hat up-to-date there shall be nothing of the kind when clusters of curls can be used to bridge over, as it were, the otherwise yawning gaps that assert themselves in the headgear.

What is nicer than engraved cards announcing your good fortune to your friends on the arrival of the new baby. The correct thing is to have the usual size "Mr. and Mrs." cards and accompanying this the small card bearing the baby's name and date of birth. One always thinks these engraved things are expensive but they are not, as you will find by consulting the Norton Book Store.

Buttons are even more popular on gowns this season than last. Some of the most exquisite ones from the Orient will adorn many handsome gowns this season. Purse made of beads of almost infinitesimal size wrought into quaint design are also quite a fad. These purses must be in colors to harmonize with any costume.

Have you seen those fine feather-bloom petticoats with embroidered ruffles for $1.75 at Hansberger's?

When sprinkling linen for ironing, it is better to use hot water than cold, for it soaks into the linen more quickly and so much is not required. When the clothes are dampened roll them up tightly until they can be ironed.

For the new spring suits you will need a habit black corset. Call at Levitt & Bowman's fitting room and have one fitted.

"Pa, is it true that all men are made of dust?"
"The had reason to think lately."

replied the man who had been trying to get his notes extended, "that a good many of them are made of cement."

Hansberger's have just in an elegant showing of spring jackets and skirts.

Soup should never be allowed to cool in any vessel of tin, copper or iron; it must be poured while hot into a shallow, well-glazed earthen pan and be stirred.

Have you seen the beautiful fancy work done on the White Sewing machine? Tomorrow will be special demonstration day in their store at 37 West Church street. Every lady is invited.

Paris, by the way, has decided that the new spring coat is to have no basques. This always means an expensive tailor. For the long basque, especially at the back, needs as much skill as the princess gown. With a perfect figure, the task is easy. But few are perfect, and this makes the difficulty of hiding imperfections. That involves skill, and skill is costly.

The embroidery lovers will enjoy seeing the pretty new things at Levitt & Bowman's. All kinds of art material.

A young man sent 60 cents to a firm that advertised a recipe to prevent bad dreams. He received a slip of paper on which was written: "Don't go to sleep."

How easy it is for a woman to collect a complete dinner service these days when she can buy it by the piece. Have you noticed those open stock patterns of dinner ware at The Fair. They include the Haviland, Austrian, English and American china and give an elegant chance for selection.

There is an art in the wiring of high collars. Certain veins in the neck carry up the blood to the brain. Pressure on these soon produces headaches but very often the victim is entirely unaware of the cause.

I was surprised at the variety of inverted gas lights and gas lights of all kinds that can be bought for so little money at The Fair. Good light at little expense is what we want.

Now that spring is approaching so rapidly miliary is beginning to think about the all important question of Easter outfit and summer wardrobe. She is actually looking forward with pleasure to the long days of Lent, for then, at least, she will have time to browse around in the shops and discover all sorts of bargains and delightful novelties.

Of special interest to the ladies will be the opening of the new "Walk-Over Shop" at No. 7 South Park Place. This store will cater specially to particular people. They will carry the latest and noblest things ever seen in footwear. Watch the Advocate for their opening announcement.

Ladies will find "The Purify," the new confectionery store, a delightful place to drop in while out shopping, and get a hot chocolate or one of those delicious special new drinks they serve—the cream puff and the chocolate cream.

THOUGHTS ON BUSINESS

BY

WALDO PONDRAY WARREN

PRACTICE-WORK

I WAS talking with a business man recently about the success of a well-known manufacturer—now many times a millionaire.

"I knew him when he was a boy," said the man. "The first thing I can remember was that he beat me at a game of checkers. We played four games and he beat me every time. I remember it well. But he was that way about everything. He was the best ball player, the best skater, the best tennis player—the best in everything he went into. In school it was the same way. I remember one time he got only third place in the Latin class. He made capital out of the fact, though, for he went at that Latin as if his life depended on it, and that's about the last time I ever heard of anybody getting ahead of him. After he got in business it was the same way. Nobody ever accused him of doing things by halves. It's no wonder to me that he got rich, and I believe he earned every dollar of his money by doing everything a little bit better than the next person."

Everything we do is merely practice-work for something greater, and we grow in capacity in the proportion that we throw our best efforts into whatever we undertake.

Bitten by Dog.
Frank Ryan, a carrier boy for the Daily Advocate, was bitten by a dog on Indiana avenue, Tuesday night while delivering his papers. He was taken to a doctor's office, where the wound cauterized and then to his home on Dewey avenue.

Failed to Return.
Max McCann who was arrested earlier in the week charged with the theft of a diamond ring, was released from custody today owing to the fact that a man by the name of Finnell, who swore to the warrant, and who is now employed in Indiana, would not return to prosecute the case. The ring was recovered by the police.

Horse Blankets Stolen.
W. B. Hoskinson and Homer McFadden, two young men living at Chatham, but who attend business college in this city, reported to the police that two horse blankets were stolen from them while their horses were hitched in front of Chatham hall Saturday night. No blankets have been found in any pawn shops here, nor have any been traded at any of the lively bars.

Charges Non-Support.
Charging Charles Ridenbaugh, a teamster, with non-support of his minor children, Mrs. Eva Ridenbaugh appeared before Mayor Atherton on Tuesday afternoon and swore to a warrant for Ridenbaugh's arrest. She says the children are Lena, aged 6, Clara, aged 4, and Sadie, aged 2. In police court this morning he was bound over to the court of Common Pleas and his bond fixed at $300.

Central Church of Christ.
The first of a series of special addresses on evangelism will be delivered by the pastor tonight at 7:20. The following numbers will occur on the successive last Wednesday nights in each month. These addresses are of universal importance, and are therefore open to the general public, but the attendance of all disciples is especially solicited. The subject to be discussed tonight is "Evangelism and the Individual Disciple."

Col. Geo. W. Bam of Kentucky, noted lecturer and entertainer, will be at the Y. M. C. A. tonight. He is one of the best.

EXCESSIVE DRINKING

Excessive or continued use of alcoholic beverages always results in a diseased condition of the nervous system.

The drinking man is often heard to say, "I can stop of my own free will and when I wish," but the poor fellow is now devoid of the power to act at the proper time and in the right way—it is to be noted—the craving has become a habit, and because of the diseased nervous system he has not the ability for sustained effort. The result we all know.

Drunkennes is no longer considered a crime, eminent scientists and physicians have agreed that it is a disease, and must be treated as such.

The home treatment that has been used for a number of years, and is highly successful, is Orrine. It is sold under a positive guarantee that if it does not effect a cure your money will be refunded.

Orrine is in two forms. When desiring to give secretly, purchase Orrine No. 1, and if the patient will voluntarily take the treatment, Orrine No. 2 should be given. The guarantee is the same in either case. Orrine costs but $1.00 per box. Mailed in plain sealed wrapper on receipt of price. Write for free treatise on "Drunkennes" mailed in sealed envelope by the Orrine Co., Washington, D. C. Sold by leading druggists everywhere, and in this city by Frank D. Hall.

A New Record in Railroad Building.

The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway has just extended the train service on its new Pacific Coast extension as far west as Terry, Montana.

Here the new line crosses the Yellowstone river for the first time. At present trains are in operation as far west as Marquette, North Dakota, 91 miles beyond the Missouri river. This extension carries the new train service about one hundred miles farther west.

Train service between Aberdeen and Marquette is daily, except Sunday, and between Marquette and Terry, daily.

The record of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway, in building its Pacific Coast extension, has never been equalled in the matter of time by any similar undertaking. Track is now being laid at the rate of five miles per day.

WEDDINGS

OKR-M'GINNIS.

At 6 o'clock the bride and groom entered the parlors accompanied by Mr. Ray Belt and Miss Helen Young. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. A. Bennett. The dining room was very pretty in the color scheme of pink and white. An elegant three course supper was served. Those seated at the bride's table were Mr. and Mrs. Grover Orr, Ray Belt, Helen Young, Glen Young, Pearl Kinney, Daniel McGinnis, Maggie Hollar, Mont Orr, Fannie Kilworth, Mr. and Mrs. Scott Orr. Those present from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. Murray Cooper, and son Wayne of Glenford, Mr. Glen Young of McPherson, Kas, and Mr. Ray Belt of Saco, O. Wilson, a well known B. & O. fireman who has made Newark his home for the past two years, and Miss Lizzie Wilson of Besville, were married in Covington, Ky., Tuesday, returning to this city last evening on B. & O. No. 106. There was no elopement, no parental objection, and no particular romance in connection with the wedding, although Covington usually suggests all of these things.

The bride and groom were no relation. They have been acquainted since early childhood. Covington having been the former home of Mr. Wilson. The bride's age is 21 years and Mr. Wilson is aged 23. They will make their home at 24 North Fifth street, this city. Mr. Wilson is a popular young man whose friends extend their congratulations.

CELEBRATE THEIR GOLDEN WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Thomas of Near Pataskala Entertain Family in Honor of Event.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Thomas and little daughter of Columbus; Mr. and Mrs. D. O. Evans and four boys of Newark; Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Thomas of Westerville, and Mrs. C. B. Thomas and four children of Rural Route No. 4. A very quiet but nevertheless enjoyable time was had by all the participants, as the day was given over to a happy family reunion. Mr. Thomas comes of Licking county's pioneer stock, being the great-grandson of "Big Dave" Thomas, whose settlement in the Welsh Hills antedates the Granville colony. He was the first man to grow wheat in Licking county and the first bushel he threshed he "toted" on his back to Zanesville to mill, having made the round trip in two days.

Mrs. J. S. Youmans, who was somewhat better Monday, is now much worse.

The host and hostess received many beautiful presents and at a late hour the guests returned to their homes, after wishing them many more such pleasant anniversaries.

BARGAIN OFFERED TO GOVERNMENT

STEEL CORPORATION OFFERS PROPERTY WORTH THREE MILLION.

But They Know That Costly Improvements Would Be Made Benefitting Their Ore Property.

Washington, Feb. 26. — A representative of the biggest corporation in the United States came at the war department Tuesday and asked Secretary Taft to accept on behalf of the government at a cost of $1 a property on which the corporation had expended over $3,000,000. William Harrison Smith, representing Henry Clay Frick of the steel corporation, made this proposition Tuesday, and Secretary Taft told him to present it to the committee on rivers and harbors of the house.

The steel corporation has dug a channel, erected piers and docks and otherwise improved the water front in Michigan City, Ind., facing on Lake Michigan. Now it wants to turn the entire property over to the government, so that a port of entry may be established there, a federal lighthouse built and the navigation laws extended to it. The steel corporation has big ore deposits in the neighborhood and will be benefitted by surrendering its costly improvements to the government.

The committee on rivers and harbors will frame the necessary bill for taking the property over at a cost to the government of one dollar.

Remembers Many Anecdotes of City's Infamy When Newark Was but Small Hamlet.

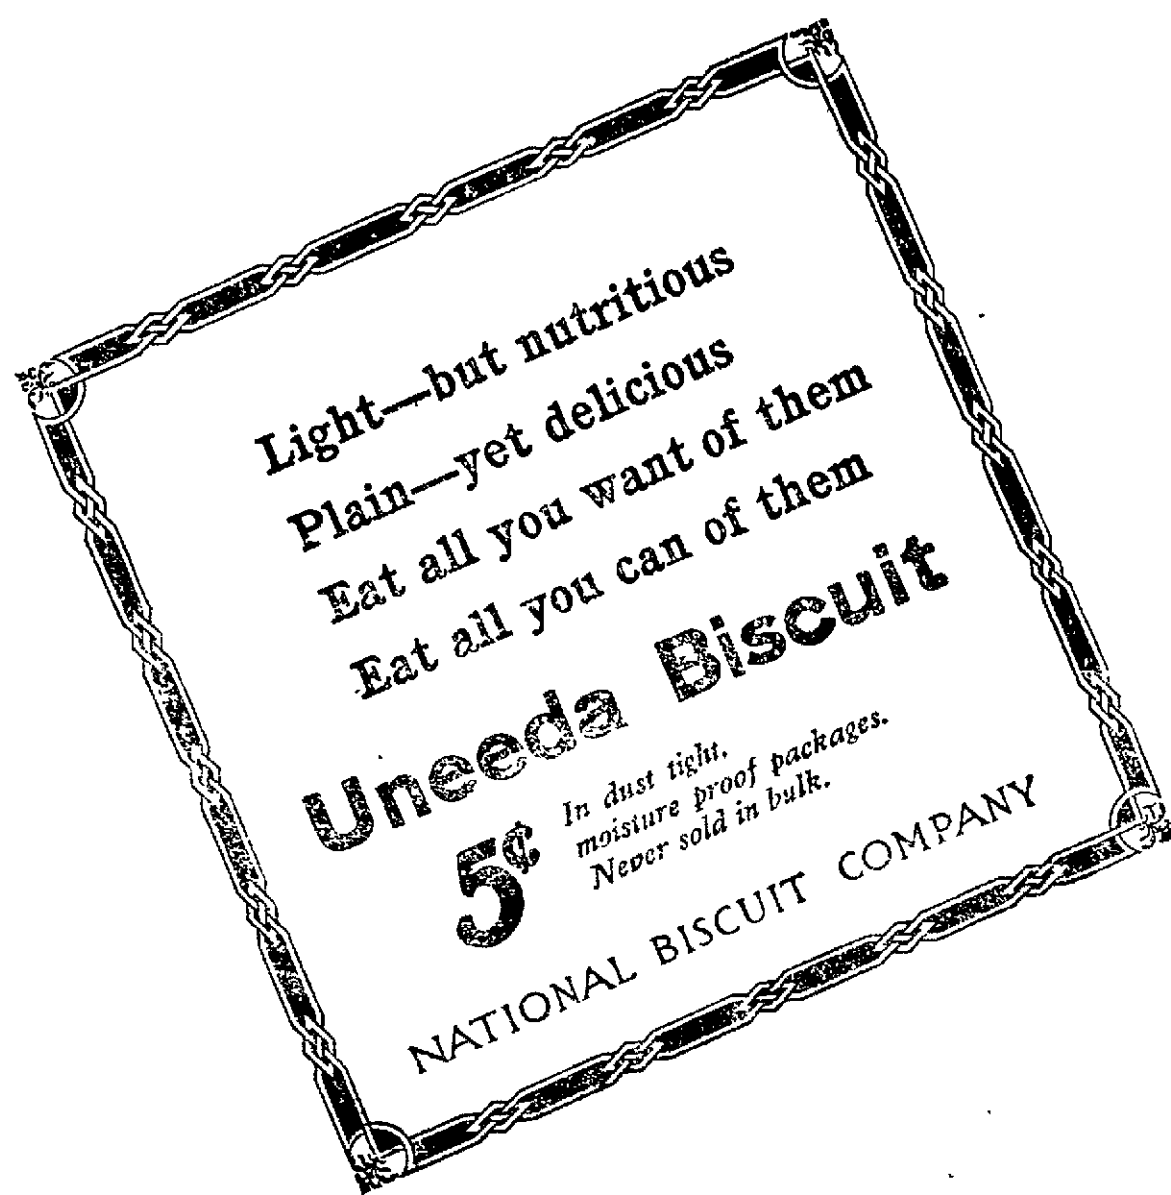

Editor Advocate: After reading of John Sparks in your recent editions, my memory has been made fresh with happenings and acquaintances of the pioneer days of Licking county, and has brought back to mind many things that I had long since forgotten, and the one memory which gives me much pleasure was my meeting with Big John Sparks, "the old fisherman."

I was born in Champagne county, Ohio, Sept. 19, 1819, and moved to Licking with my father three years later, who settled in the wilderness in what is now Eden township. When I was 17 years old I came to Newark and went to work as an apprentice to old J. K. Knight, who at that time was engaged in the manufacture of chairs. His shop was in the rear of the present King shoe store on the west side of the square. It was in the following spring that I met with John Sparks. I had been home for a few weeks on a visit and was walking back to Newark to go to work. I was following the Mt. Vernon road

AN ELECTION PRIMER

Pertinent Points About Our Election Machinery For New Voters and Old

THE REPUBLICAN PARTY.

When did the Republican party originate?

In 1854. The name was first used at a political convention in Jackson, Mich. The first Republican national convention met in Pittsburg, Pa., in 1856 and adopted a platform in which the chief plank declared "that the constitution confers upon congress sovereign power over the territories of the United States for their government and that in the exercise of this power it is both the right and the imperative duty of congress to prohibit in the territories those twin relics of barbarism, polygamy and slavery."

Who was the party's first presidential candidate?

John C. Fremont. He was defeated by James Buchanan, the Democratic candidate.

Who was the next candidate?

Abraham Lincoln. He was nominated at Chicago and elected, his chief opponent being Stephen A. Douglas, nominated by the northern wing of the Democracy. Lincoln was re-elected in 1864 over General George B. McClellan, Democrat.

How many Republican presidents have there been?

Nine. Lincoln, Johnson, Grant, Hayes, Garfield, Arthur, Benjamin Harrison, McKinley and Roosevelt. Lincoln, Garfield and McKinley were assassinated. Johnson, Arthur and Roosevelt succeeded to the presidency on the death of the president, being vice presidents. Roosevelt was elected to a full term after serving out McKinley's uncompleted second term.

Since the civil war, for what has the Republican party chiefly stood?

For what is known as a protective tariff.

and was just this side of what is now St. Louis when I met with this man Sparks, who was rather a big man, but his appearance left the memory that I never shall forget. He was bareheaded and bareheaded, and carried a fishing pole. We were perfect strangers, but after the customs of those days an acquaintance soon sprung up and from that time on till his death in 1848 we met quite often, and in fact we were neighbors for a time before his death.

John and I sat down on a big log by the roadside and had quite a talk at our first meeting, and I am very sorry that my failing memory prevents me from relating some of the stories of Indian adventures and hardships that he had experienced.

I can remember many things of Newark as far back as 1836 that might be read with interest and would gladly write up many interesting facts about our flourishing city's infancy, but for the present will beg to remain as ever.

Respectfully,

MESSAGE

business to develop a river for navigation in such a way as to prevent its use for power, when by a little foresight it could be made to serve both purposes. We can not afford needlessly to sacrifice power to irrigation, or irrigation to domestic water supply, when by taking thought we may have all three. Every stream should be used to the utmost. No stream can be so used unless such use is planned for in advance. When such plans are made we shall find that, instead of interfering, one use can often be made to assist another. Each river system, from its headwaters in the forest to its mouth on the coast, is a single unit and should be treated as such. Navigation of the lower reaches of a stream can not be fully developed without the control of floods and low waters by storage and drainage. Navigable channels are directly concerned with the protection of source waters, and with soil erosion which takes the materials for bars and shoals from the richest positions of our farms. The use of a stream for domestic and municipal water supply, for power, and in many cases for irrigation must also be taken into full account.

For National Defense.

The development of our inland waterways will have results far beyond the immediate gain to commerce. Deep channels along the Atlantic and Gulf coasts and from the Gulf to the Great Lakes will have high value for the national defense. The use of water-power will measurably relieve the drain upon our diminishing supplies of coal, and transportation by water instead of rail will tend to conserve our iron. Forest protection, without which river improvement cannot be permanent, will at the same time help to postpone the threatened timber famine, and will secure us against a total dearth of timber by providing for the perpetuation of the remaining woodlands. Irrigation will create the means of livelihood for millions of people, and supplies of pure water will powerfully promote the public health. If the policy of waterways improvement here recommended is carried out, it will affect for good every citizen of the Republic. The National Government must play the leading part in securing the largest possible use of our waterways; other agencies can assist, and should assist, but the work is essentially national in its scope.

What Congress Should Do.

The various uses of waterways are now dealt with by bureaus scattered through four federal Departments. At present, therefore, it is not possible to deal with a river system as a single problem. But the Commission here recommends a policy under which all the commercial and industrial uses of the waterways may be developed at the same time. To that end, Congress should provide some administrative machinery for coordinating the work of the various Departments so far as it relates to waterways. Otherwise there will not only be delay, but the people as a whole will fail to get from our streams the benefits to which they are justly entitled.

The Commission recognizes that the cost of improving our inland waterways will be large, but far less than would be required to relieve the congestion of traffic by railway extension. The benefits of such improvement will be large also, and they will touch the daily life of our people at every point, uniting the interests of all the States and sections of our country. The cost and the benefits should be equitably distributed, by co-operation with the States and the communities, corporations, and individuals beneficially affected. I heartily concur in the Commission's recommendation to this end. Such co-operation should result in united effort in carrying out the great duty of improving our inland waterways. While we delay, our rivers remain unused, our traffic is periodically congested, and the material wealth and natural resources of the country related to waterways are being steadily absorbed by great monopolies.

Schemes of Corporations.

Among these monopolies, as the report of the Commission points out, there is no other which threatens, or has ever threatened, such intolerable interference with the daily life of the people as the consolidation of companies controlling water power. I call your special attention to the attempt of the power corporations, through bills introduced at the present session, to escape from the possibility of Government regulation in the interest of the people. These bills are intended to enable the corporations to take possession in perpetuity of national forest lands for the purposes of their business, where and as they please, wholly without compensation to the public. Yet the effect of granting such privileges, taken together with rights already acquired under States' laws, would be to give away properties of enormous value. Through lack of foresight we have formed the habit of granting without compensation extremely valuable rights amounting to monopolies on navigable streams and on the public domain. The repurchase at great expense of water rights thus carelessly given away without return has already begun in the East, and before long will be necessary in the West also. No rights involving water power should be granted to any corporations in perpetuity, but only for a length of time sufficient to allow them to conduct their business profitably. A reasonable charge should of course be made for valuable rights and privileges which they obtain from the National Government. The values for which this charge is made will ultimately, through the natural growth and orderly development of our population and industries, reach enormous amounts. A fair share of the increase should be safeguarded for the benefit of the people, from whose labor it springs. The proceeds thus secured, after the cost of administration and improvement has been met, should naturally be devoted to the development of our inland waterways.

Valuable Natural Asset.

The report justly calls attention to the fact that hitherto our national policy has been one of almost unrestricted disposition and waste of natural resources, and emphasizes the fundamental necessity for conserving these resources upon which our present and future success as a nation primarily rests. Running water is a most valuable natural asset of the people, and there is urgent need for conserving it for navigation, for power, for irrigation, and for domestic and municipal supply.

The Commission was appointed to obtain information concerning our waterways as related to the general welfare. Much work was done, but more remains to be done before a plan for their development can be prepared in detail. We need additional information on the flow of our streams, the condition of channels, the amount and cost of water traffic, the requirements for terminals, the area in each watershed which should be kept under forest, and the means of preventing soil-waste and the consequent damage to our rivers. But it is neither necessary nor desirable to postpone the beginning of the work until all the facts are obtained. We have suffered heavily in the past from the lack of adequate transportation facilities, and unless a beginning is made promptly we shall suffer still more heavily in the future.

Mississippi Loop of Sea.

Being without funds or an expert staff, the Commission has confined itself to principles affecting the whole problem and the entire country. Its report is a plea, in the light of actual facts, for simplicity and directness in dealing with the great problem of our inland waterways in the interest of the people. It contains no specific plan or recommendations concerning even the most important projects. The first of these of course concerns the Mississippi and its tributaries, whose commercial development will directly affect half our people. The Mississippi should be made a loop of the sea and work upon it should be begun at the earliest possible moment. Only less important is the Atlantic inner passage, parts of which are already under way. The inner passages along the Gulf coast should be extended and connected with the Atlantic waters. The need for the developing of the Pacific coast rivers is not less pressing. Our people are united in support of the immediate adoption of a progressive policy of inland waterway development.

Hitherto our national policy of inland waterway development has been largely negative. No single agency has been responsible under the congress for making the best use of our rivers, or for exercising foresight in their development. In the absence of a comprehensive plan, the only safe policy was one of repression and procrastination. Frequent changes of plan and piecemeal execution of projects have still further hampered improvement. A channel is no deeper than its shallowest reach, and to improve a river short of the point of effective navigability is a sheer waste of all its costs. In spite of large appropriations for their improvement, our rivers are less serviceable for interstate commerce today than they were half a century ago, and in spite of the vast increase in our population and commerce they are on the whole less used.

Definite and Progressive Policy.

The first condition of successful development of our waterways is a definite and progressive policy. The second is a concrete general plan, prepared by the best experts available, covering every use to which our streams can be put. We shall not succeed until the responsibility for administering the policy and executing and extending the plan is definitely laid on one man or group of men who can be held accountable. Every portion of the general plan should consider and so far as practicable secure to the people the use of water for power, irrigation, and domestic supply as well as for navigation. No project should be begun until the funds necessary to complete it promptly are provided, and no plan once under way should be changed except for grave reasons. Work once begun should be prosecuted steadily and vigorously to completion. We must make sure that projects are not undertaken except for sound business reasons, and that the best modern business methods are applied in executing them. The decision to undertake any project should rest on actual need ascertained by investigation and judgment of experts and on its relation to great river systems or to the general plan, and never on mere clamor.

The improvement of our inland waterways can and should be made to pay for itself so far as practicable from the incidental proceeds from water-power and other uses. Navigation should of course be free. But the greatest return will come from the increased commerce, growth, and prosperity of our people. For this we have already waited too long. Adequate funds should be provided, by bond issue if necessary, and the work should be delayed no longer. The development of our waterways and the conservation of our forests are the two most pressing physical needs of the country. They are interdependent, and they should be met vigorously, together, and at once. The questions of organization, powers, and appropriations are now before the congress. There is urgent need for prompt and decisive action.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Richards of Bucyrus were in the village Tuesday for a short time.

The Cause of Gas

Gas on the stomach indicates that food has fermented. The food is usually starch. It ferments because it doesn't digest. The food was not properly cooked. The particles of starch have not been so separated that the digestive juices can get to them.

The remedy is not an artificial digester—nor a pre-digested food.

The remedy is to supply the starch in shape to be digested. Then let the stomach do the work for which it is intended.

When you toast bread, you notice that it digests better. You have applied more heat—broken up more of the starch.

But the perfect food for a weak stomach is Maple-Flake. No other food in the world is cooked so well as that.

Our wheat is steam-cooked for six hours. Then cured for 90 hours. Then each separate berry is flaked so thin that the full heat of our ovens can get to each atom. Then the flakes are toasted, for 30 minutes, in a heat of 400 degrees.

The result is a food that's all food, because it all digests. No part will ferment to cause digestive disorders. Try it and see.

Maple-Flake is the perfect food for those with weak digestions. It is the perfect food for the economical, because none goes to waste. It is the perfect children's food, because it is the whole wheat, wholly digestible. So to make it delicious—to make children like it—we boil it in pure maple syrup. The result is, they beg for it—beg for the food that is best for them.

Don't take a flake, prepared in one-fourth the time, because it is five cents cheaper.

"It's All Food"

makes them about equals as singers and comedians. Bun Granville's opening song, "If I'm Going to Die, I'm Going to Have Some Fun," was a big hit, while "The Laundry Man," as sung by Harry VanFossen, came in a close second.

The musical act in the olio, introducing novelty instruments and combinations, met with much deserved applause.

The program closed with a pretty scenic display entitled, "The Carols and Chimes of Christmas Times."

THE LION AND THE MOUSE.

The attraction at the Auditorium on Saturday, February 23, afternoon and night, will be the big New York musical comedy success, "The Lion and the Mouse," this being its initial appearance in this city. The theme of the piece affords ample opportunity for an endless amount of fun, and the score is full of airs that will be whistled and sung everywhere, notably when the Circus Comes to Town. My Little Chickasaw, Dreaming of My Love, Adam Liar the Animal Buyer, My Home in the Mountains and Valleys I Love, Back to America, and many more musical features make the play one of the best from a musical standpoint, among the season's launchings.

THE LION AND THE MOUSE.

There is a great deal of novelty connected with "The Lion and the Mouse," a dramatic picture of house hold life connected with the career of a financial magnate. "Read, Money" a flyer, the central character of the play who represents the money octopus of the present time is probably one of the greatest characterizations ever written into an American play. It has had an uninterrupted run in New York of almost a year and is still being presented there. Henry B. Harris will offer the play to local theaters at the Auditorium in March.

AT THE ORPHIUM.

The Matinee Sisters, one of the features of the strong bill at the Orphium this week, are delighting the large audience at each performance with their artistic work. They are highly gifted young women and show evidences of thorough musical training.

Miss Beatrice Morelle, who in private life is the wife of Col. Edward A. Braden of New York, the well known theatrical and club man, has recently returned from Berlin, Germany, where she spent two years in study of German opera. Miss Morelle possesses a beautiful contralto voice of rare quality, which is heard to advantage in the old Scotch ballad "Annie Laurie." This combined with a charming stage presence, wins her general admiration.

Miss Charlotte Morelle, handles her violin with unusual skill, plays with grace and ease, and her tone and technique show close application to her work. What with talent and ambition, these young ladies certainly "have a bright future before them."

He is survived by his widow and several children in Los Angeles.

Col. Geo. W. Bain of Kentucky, Secured to Fill Engagement at Taylor Hall Tonight.

Word has come from John Temple Graves that his physicians have forbidden him to fill any more lecture engagements for the present. The Y. M. C. A. committee regret this exceedingly and have made every effort not to disappoint their patrons. They are glad to announce that they have succeeded in securing in place of Mr. Graves, Col. George W. Bain of Kentucky, another of the great Southern orators.

Col. Bain is a great orator. He has been called "A Soldier of the Common Good." Patrons of the course are assured a pleasant and profitable evening. There are a few good 25c seats remaining. At Taylor Hall tonight.

U. B. REVIVAL

The meetings at the United Brethren church, which are being conducted by Evangelist J. E. Shannon, can now truly be said to have reached the stage where the term revival applies to them. Monday night there were ten persons who came and knelt at the altar seeking the blessing that comes to those who make a full surrender of their lives to God.

Tuesday night quite a number of others came and many claimed the victory in their lives and went away praising God.

Evangelist Shannon is simplyly itself in his presentation of the truth. Monday night he talked in an easy conversational manner about the "Use and Abuse of Light," the topic having been suggested by a selection which was sung by the U. B. Male quartette, entitled "Let Your Love Light be Burning." Tuesday night his talk was concerning the Spirit Filled Life. He will conduct Bible readings every afternoon and will preach every evening of this week.

Good old fashioned cakes are being sold from Mrs. Austin's Buckwheat house. Now at four grocers.

The Practice of Keeping Accounts

Is recommended as a valuable help in the economical adjustment of one's living expenses. The income from salary or wages is easily known. The three necessary items—Rent, Food and Clothing—may be approximately figured. Between this income and the outlay there is a fair-sized sum not so easily accounted for. With the daily itemized record of even one month before you, you are likely to find many little unnecessary items that you will decide to do without; because, while trifles in themselves, they do make a surprisingly large total. If regularly saved and earning 4 per cent. compound interest, think what they would grow to in a few years.

LENTEN SEASON BEGINS SOON

ARCHBISHOP OF THIS PROVINCE HAS ISSUED INSTRUCTIONS

Observance Begins March 1, Ash Wednesday, and Society Will be Quiet for a Time.

Archbishop Moeller has sent his annual letter to the churches for this province, bearing instructions upon Lent, which is to be observed beginning March 4. Lent will be observed by all Catholics and Episcopalians and some other creeds, and takes its authority from Christ's 40 days' fast in the wilderness.

Special sermons will be preached in repentance and other topics during the weekly services of the Catholic churches.

In the letter the archbishop will give instructions as to how the time of penance shall be observed by the faithful.

The season is significant of the 40 days' fast of Christ in the desert. During Lent devout Catholics, Episcopalians and some members of other creeds spend much of their time repenting for past sins and fast from Ash Wednesday until Easter Sunday.

On Ash Wednesday in the Catholic church the faithful repair to the altar, where with the sign of the cross the ashes from burned palms are placed upon their foreheads in the sign of the cross, the priest repeating the words, "Remember, I man, thou art but dust and unto dust thou shalt return."

Wednesday, Friday and Saturday are the days of abstinence. On those days flesh is not allowed. On the other days of the week flesh is allowed at one meal, preferably at the noon repast.

Only one full meal a day is allowed. On Sunday the fast is not compulsory, nor is the abstinence. Fish and flesh are not allowed at the same meal.

Never can tell when you'll mash a finger or suffer a cut, bruise, burn or scald. Be prepared. Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil instantly relieves the pain—quickly cures the wound.

PARLOR CONCERT

GIVEN AT COUNTRY HOME OF MR. AND MRS. C. H. BOLIN TUESDAY EVENING.

Seven Course Dinner is Served to Eighty Guests From Surrounding Community.

One of the most enjoyable of the many social events it has been the pleasure of the Advocate to chronicle was the "parlor concert" given by Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Bolin, at their beautiful and commodious home just outside of the corporation of the city, in Madison township, on Tuesday evening of this week. These parlor concerts are considered the most popular form of amusement in private life just at present, and the one given by Mr. and Mrs. Bolin on Tuesday night proved one of the best that has yet been held. There were about 80 persons present, numbering some of the best known people of Newark, Zanesville, Hanover and Madison township. All the guests assembled at the Bolin home at an early hour in the evening, when a splendid seven course dinner was served, over one hour and a half being spent at the tables which were most efficiently waited on by Misses Edythe Hall, Ruth Bolin, Helen Bolin, Jeannette Bolin and Nellie Maybold. At the conclusion of the dinner came the feature of the evening, a splendid musical concert given by the celebrated McDowell family of Columbus, including Prof. B. M. McDowell and wife, daughter May, and son, Prof. Francis McDowell and wife and Miss Bertha Friel of this city. The music was very much enjoyed by all who were present, while the whistling of Mrs. E. C. Bolin was especially pleasing and much appreciated.

During the evening punch was served in the upper hall by Miss Margaret Hall and Miss Davis. At the conclusion of the concert a number of the members of the family and others furnished charming music and the evening was spent in having a good social time until a late hour, the festivities concluding by all joining in singing "Till We Meet Again."

IDLE MEN ARE SCARCE

Water Works Construction Company Scouted City for Men and Secured Only Four.

The superintendent of construction of the American Light and Power company, engaged in constructing the new water works in this city, has during the past winter, had more applications for work from men out of employment than he could accommodate. Wednesday morning, however, he had urgent need for a dozen men to work and although he sent out scouts and scoured the city he was only able to round up four men who wanted to work. This does not look as if there was as many unemployed men in Newark in proportion to its size as it is claimed there are in other cities of the state.

UTICA.

She was given medical treatment at Cincinnati and then brought here. She is expected to recover in spite of her advanced years.

Jake Yottis was arrested Saturday on a warrant sworn out by Gus Applegate. He was fined $3 and costs by Mayor Hall.

The Utica council met Tuesday afternoon in special session with all members on hand. Attorney Black of Newark was present. The meeting was held for the purpose of determining the powers of the mayor in regard to work on the village streets, appointing special police, etc.
